

Dancing in the Doghouse, 2007, Age 38

“Dancing in the Doghouse gives an achingly honest voice to the marginalized members of the human family, especially those of us that suffer with mental illness. Alisa offers insight into the fears and vulnerability that are a piece of our daily struggle. An unwavering commitment to cling to what is beautiful as she battles a ruthless enemy is awe inspiring. Her prayer, “Jesus let me love better...Remind me always that I am connected to others...Let me remember that I hold hands with them...Give us the ability to love each other well.” is a healing salve. Through an example of transcendent and unsanitized faith she offers her life story through prose and illustration as evidence that even in our darkest hours we are connected to a God that we can “hang our hope on.”

By Lynne Graff-Headapohl

“I was privileged to read this book in one of its early drafts. The writing is crisp and fresh; the writer is honest and transparent; and the absolutely delightful illustrations tie everything together and bring the book alive. As a counselor, I will certainly recommend Dancing in the Doghouse to clients as an encouragement to them in their own journeys.”

By Creative Counselor, CC

“This is an amazing story of suffering, recovery and redemption! A powerful testimony of Jesus’ love and how He can meet and comfort anyone, anywhere, anytime under any circumstance because of His gift of grace and most awesome love for us -- His most beloved creation!

A must read for all!!!”

By Karen Townsley

Informational Resources for Alisa E. Clark

www.journeyoncanvas.com

www.dancinginthedoghouse.com

On Slideshare: <http://www.slideshare.net/clarkej1/spiritual-book>

Facebook Page: <http://www.facebook.com/pages/Alisa-E-Clark/135713083026?v=wall&ref=ts>

More on Facebook:

<http://www.facebook.com/profile.php?id=100000247693203&v=info&ref=name#!/profile.php?v=wall&ref=name&id=100000247693203>

On Linked-In:

http://www.linkedin.com/profile?viewProfile=&key=54337684&locale=en_US&trk=tab_pro

Dancing in the Doghouse Network: <http://alisaclark.ning.com/>

Photostream on Flickr: <http://www.flickr.com/photos/dancinginthedoghouse/?donelayout=1>

Google Profile: <http://www.google.com/profiles/journeyoncanvas>

Alisa at Online Therapy Institute: <http://onlinetherapyinstitute.ning.com/profile/AlisaEClark>

Stumble Upon Alisa’s Favorites: <http://www.stumbleupon.com/favorites/>

Alisa on Twitter: <http://twitter.com/alisaclark>

Alisa’s Blog: <http://www.journeyoncanvas.com/Resources/Blog.aspx>

Articles by Alisa: <http://www.journeyoncanvas.com/Resources/Articles.aspx>

Press Releases: <http://www.journeyoncanvas.com/Resources/PressReleases.aspx>

Alisa E. Clark believes in the power of spiritual autobiography. Alisa wrote Dancing in the Doghouse to unleash its power for her and others.

Alisa E. Clark believes in the power of spiritual autobiography. She received her B.F.A. from Pratt Institute, and her M.S. in education to become a professional artist and educator who encourages spiritual exploration. Alisa wrote her spiritual autobiography, Dancing in the Doghouse, to encourage people to share their spiritual stories.

Alisa created www.journeyoncanvas.com to help people begin their own spiritual autobiographies. Journey on Canvas uses excerpts from Dancing in the Doghouse to support anyone who would like to start sharing their journey. Alisa believes that spiritual autobiography is for everyone and encourages all to tell their story.

Author Bio: 96 word count

Alisa E. Clark believes in the power of spiritual autobiography. She received her B.F.A. from Pratt Institute, and her M.S. in education to become a professional artist and educator who encourages spiritual exploration. Alisa wrote her spiritual autobiography, Dancing in the Doghouse, to encourage people to share their spiritual stories.

Author Bio: 50 word count

Author Experience:

Owner, Educational Consultant and Educational Advocate @ WC Enterprises (2002-2009)

As a liaison for academic program development for school districts and other academic institutions, Alisa provided educational support and resources for WC Enterprises of Michigan. As Learning Consultant, Alisa published numerous articles for educational product development and was the content writer for over 20 educational web sites. Visit www.wcentofmi.com to learn more about Alisa and her company.

Professional Artist, Writer and Speaker @ www.journeyoncanvas.com (2008-Present)

Journey on Canvas is an extensive spiritual autobiography resource created by Alisa E. Clark, author of Dancing in the Doghouse. www.journeyoncanvas.com includes a journaling guide for spiritual autobiography, links to relevant articles published by Alisa and connects readers to Alisa's blog (Journey on Canvas Blog: A Place Where Anyone Can Share). Visit www.journeyoncanvas.com/Resources/Blog.aspx to learn more about Alisa's blog. Visit www.journeyoncanvas.com to learn more about Alisa's mission as an artist, writer and speaker.

BFA, Pratt Institute (1986-1990) Major Field of Study: Art Education

MS, Long Island University (1991-1994) Major Field of Study: Education

Post Masters Education, Montclair State University (1994-1996) Area of Study: Psychology

Contact Information:

www.journeyoncanvas.com

alisa@journeyoncanvas.com